

NEED ADVICE ON THE MICROCOMPUTER TO BUY OR THE KIND OF PROGRAM TO WRITE?

WRITTEN A PROGRAM BUT NOT SURE HOW TO GET IT ACCEPTED FOR PUBLICATION?

WANT TO KNOW WHY SOME PROGRAMS ARE PUBLISHED AND SOME ARE NOT?

UNCERTAIN ABOUT WHAT TO DO REGARDING COPYRIGHT?

These and many other questions are answered in this candid book on the fast-growing and ever-changing microcomputer software industry.

Most software authors begin writing their programs at home, and many have dreams of seeing their hard work recognised and their programs published. In order to realise these dreams, a software writer needs all the help he can get.

The author has had six years' experience of accepting and rejecting a vast number of home-written programs submitted to his publishing company and he is uniquely qualified to give an insider's view of the software trade.

ISBN 0 86369 057 2

Virgin Books

£4.95